THE BUZZ AGENCY (T.B.A.) ROUNDS OUT FEBRUARY WITH A SLATE OF NEW CLIENTS

Boca Raton Marketing/PR Firm adds III Forks Prime Steakhouse, Cantina Laredo, SweetPea Baby Planners, and Adolph & Rose Levis JCC to its high profile roster

BOCA RATON, FL, February 23, 2010 – The Buzz Agency, www.thebuzzagency.net, a unique consortium of seasoned South Florida marketing and public relations professionals founded by Elizabeth Kelley Grace and Julie Kaminski, announces several new additions to its diverse roster of clients.

The firm recently was awarded the III Forks Prime Steakhouse and Cantina Laredo accounts for all South Florida locations (www.iiiforks.com; www.cantinalaredo.com), and will manage public relations and special events for the Dallas-based restaurant group, whose parent company is Consolidated Restaurant Operations. T.B.A also will handle local publicity for Sweet Pea Baby Planners (www.sweetpeababyplanners.com); membership activities for Adolph and Rose Levis Jewish Community Center (www.levisjcc.org); and public relations and marketing initiatives for LEAH (League for Education and Awareness of the Holocaust; www.leahforkids.org).

T.B.A. operates as a virtual agency with a headquarters office on North Federal Highway and Glades Road in Boca Raton. The account team is tailored for each client to match the topic area and client objectives. The firm's specialty areas include non-profit, corporate, finance, health care, restaurants, hospitality, retail and entertainment.

Current clients include United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, Florida Woman Care, Uncle Julio's Fine Mexican Food, Boca Raton Museum of Art, Weiss Research, Chillounge Night, Key West Symphony Orchestra, Think Pink Rocks, CruiseTube, Golden Bear Realty, Everything Eyes, among others.

The co-founders, Elizabeth Kelley Grace and Julie Kaminski, have collaborated on projects for several years, first when Julie served as the Director of Marketing/Public Relations at the Boca Raton Museum of Art, and Elizabeth served as president of the Museum's young benefactors group. Elizabeth has been president of Kelley-Grace Communications for 14 years, since moving to Boca Raton from Washington, D.C. where she worked at Edelman Public Relations Worldwide. Julie Kaminski started EchoPoint Communications in 2007, after serving in a number of corporate marketing and public relations positions throughout her career.
